

The Client section seems pretty useful. Is it hard to set up?

The client sites are one of the best features of Agent Office Solutions. They're automatically created as you manage the client. The information you add to the client file automatically updates the client website. Dates, Memos, Feedback and much more. These are a great way to impress your clients.